THE RURAL SCHOOL, ITS NEEDS AND A FEW SUGGESTIONS FOR ITS IMPROVEMENT (CLASSIC REPRINT)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Rural School, Its Needs and a Few Suggestions for Its Improvement The problem Much has been said and written during the past decade on rural schools, their deficiencies, and the much needed improvement. Such slogans as Rack to the Land. Stay on the Farm. The Country School of Today for the Country Roy of Tomorrow are familiar to. all readers of the daily papers. The little red schoolhouse, the pride of the pioneers, served its purpose well and because it met a necessity, continued to exist. Rut the box car type of school of pioneer days no longer meets the demands of the day. Tradition dies hard, and it is difficult for some people to realize that the sacred little red schoolhouse with its hallowed carved desks and moss-covered water bucket must go. The changed social and economic conditions of farm life today demand a new type of school that will train the youth of our rural communities to meet efficiently the great industrial opportunities and the social needs of rural life in the new century. The reports of the United States Bureau of Education reveal to us that improvement is going on all over the country. The movement for more effective home and school cooperation is nation-wide. Yet. judging from letters received from recent graduates of our normal schools, from complaints made by teachers, old and voting, at our annual institutes, from reports from rural workers, and from talks with investigators and educators in the rural field, we are forced to conclude that in many cases the rural school lacks intelligent and economical management, adequate supervision, and efficient teachers. The enthusiastic May dream...
