Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Diagnosis of Surgical Cancer: The Liston Prize Essay for 1854 Aware of the great extent and difficulty of the subject to which he has devoted his imperfect researches, the Author respectfully claims a corresponding amount of indulgence from his professional brethren in the judgment they may form of the merits and demerits of his Essay. It is to be regarded rather as a rough sketch of the Pathology and Anatomy of Cancer (which may one day serve as a basis to future investigation), than as laying any pretensions to the character of a finished treatise; and it has been mainly from the kind advice and encouragement he has received from Professors Quain and Erichsen, the adjudicators of the Liston Medal, that the Author has ventured to publish his crude production. He feels he would be wanting in gratitude, were it not. Preface. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
