Excerpt from First Report, Address and Proceedings of the Pittsburgh Sanitary Committee, February, 1863 Immediately on receiving news of the battle of Shiloh, the Board of Trade and citizens of Pittsburgh resolved to send an expedition to the relief of the wounded, and appointed The Pittsburgh Sanitary Committee to carry into effect the patriotic design. Two of the best Ohio steamers were chartered by the Committee, fitted out with the necessary medical and sanitary stores, and with thirty surgeons and nurses, started for Pittsburgh Landing, in charge of the chairman. The instructions to the expedition were, to bring home as many as could be carried, that they might be nursed and cared for at the expense of the citizens and without charge to the United States. When the expedition arrived at Pittsburgh Landing, it was too late to aid the wounded, most of whom had been already removed. About eighty were taken on board, and the steamers filled to their utmost capacity with the worst cases of the sick.
