He has however failed to tame it controllably. Mans desire to satisfy his needs have led to increased human use of the environment. Human negligence in addition to collective actions for economic gains has put the environment at a disadvantage. Many of the natural ecosystems have been interfered with. This has been through encroachment on forest reserves, degradation of wetlands, uncontrollable expansion of agricultural land leading to soil erosion and soil exhaustion, overgrazing and burning of grasslands leading to bear soils that are susceptible to erosion agents. A sustainable situation occurs when mans ability to use natural resources can be replenished naturally. Mans activity has outstretched the ability of these resources to replenish naturally. The interactions of mans current processes with the environment have strained it. The mans disturbance affects the interdependence of the atmosphere, that...
