THE CITY COLLEGE QUARTERLY, VOL. 7: MARCH, 1911 (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)DOWNLOAD

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The City College Quarterly, Vol. 7: March, 1911 I am extremely regretful that I may not thank you for this presentation in the beautiful language in which it has been made. I appreciate, in thoughts that frame themselves as cordially in another language, its sentiments, and I shall treasure its accents. Permit me, M. Le Doyen, in behalf also of my predecessors and of the University which I represent with them, to acknowledge the good-will intimated, not only by your gracious words, but also by the presence of so large and distinguished an audience in this most historic place. It is a singularly poetic honor that one born on the banks Of a river Of New France - a river four thousand miles distant, discovered by the French over two centuries ago - should be permitted to carry to this ancient seat Of learning, in the capital Of France, some word, and a most grateful word, from the valley Of that river, once the frontier Of the empire Of France, now the center Of the United States Of America. SO far as I know, that gratitude, expressed even yonder chie?y in scat tered monuments, or in mispronounced names of streams and towns and cities, or in little-read historical documents, has never been spoken here where the memories Of valors and sacrifices unsurpassed have been obliterated with the title Of the empire to which these memories were once attached. I can have no more ambitious hope than that you Of France and they Of the Mississippi Valley shall have reason to thank Mr. Hyde that he has given this Opportunity Of communication between the heart Of America and the head Of France....
