Johns Hopkins University Press. Paperback. Condition: New. 224 pages. Dimensions: 8.5in. x 5.5in. x 0.5in. Life changes dramatically for the entire family when the decision is made to move a person who has dementia from home to community care. Rachael Wonderlin, a gerontologist, dementia care expert, and popular dementia care blogger, helps caregivers cope with the difficult behaviors, emotions, and anxieties that both they and their loved one may experience. Writing from her own practice and drawing on the latest research in gerontology and dementia, Wonderlin explains the different kinds of dementia, details the wide range of care communities available for people who have dementia, and speaks empathetically to the worry and guilt many families feel. Do not let anyone make you feel like you have taken the easy way out by choosing a dementia care community, she writes. You are still going to deal with a lot of challenging behaviors, concerns, and questions regarding your loved ones care. When Someone You Know Is Living in a Dementia Care Community is an accessible guide offering answers to such questions as: - How do I choose a place for my loved one to live- What can I find out by visiting a candidate memory-care community twice- What do I do if my loved one asks about going home- How can I improve the quality of my visits- What is the best way to handle conflict between residents, or between the resident and staff- How can I cope with my loved ones sundowning- What do I do if my loved one starts a romantic relationship with another resident An indispensable book for family members and friends of people with dementia, When Someone You Know is Living in a Dementia Care Community touches the heart while explaining how to make a difficult situation better.
