Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Business Educator Today, young men and women, the person who succeeds must be able to do something well, willing to do it without grumbling, and then do it, whatever it is in a manner that will please the one for whom it is being done. Since all cater to some one, and in many cases to more than one, the power of pleasing others, courteously toward them, and the ability and determination to push forward, will win many seemingly hopeless battles. Just at this time the teaching of Penmanship is occupying a great deal of the attention of educators, probably more than it ever did before. The causes leading up to this are many, and I will not take the space here to go into detail regarding them. Good teachers of Penmanship are in demand, but no more than good business writers. A teacher should know what he is going to teach, how he is going to teach it, and then teach it as if it were the only subject in the world. Now students, you who are going to follow me in this course of lessons, I ask your co-operation, close attention to both the copy and instruction given. Go in with a determination to win. Take the copies as they are given. Stick to them until you have mastered them and the game is yours. Materials and Position. - Foolscap paper, a medium fine pen, and black ink, are indispensable for good work. For position sit squarely facing the table. Have front edge of chair under edge of table. Sit with hips well back in chair. Lean forward, bending at the hips,...
