Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from Managing the Learning Process: An Experiment in Education In our educational system, for example, we have neglected an important step: to work on the problem(s) involved in managing the learning of others Over the past few years, David Kolb, James McIntyre, and I have been involved in developing a new approach to teaching organizational psychology. Many confusions have arisen as to what it is we are trying to do, the strengths and weaknesses of the particular approach chosen, its effectiveness or impact on the students involved, and where it fits in the broader picture of the Sloan School, the profession of management, and the process of education. It is hoped that a clearer understanding of the nature of this experiment can provide a meaningful basis for constructive feedback and encourage others to write up and share their own educational experiences. . 331 is the introductory course in organizational psychology that is required of all M.S. candidates in management at the M.I.T. Sloan School. Over the years this course has had a rich and varied history. It had been taught as an academic psychology course using the lecture/discussion method; it had been a seminar course with Ph.D. candidates participating as seminar leaders; About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
