Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Cost of Canning Wisconsin Peas Factories sold their canned peas at an average price of per case containing two dozen No. 2 cans. Out of the cents received for each can of peas, the farmer or grower of green peas was paid cents, cans cost cents, boxes 6 cents, all other factory and selling expenses amounted to cents, and. Profits of factories before income taxes were de ducted, averaged cents.1 That containers - the cans and boxes together - cost cents, or more than the green peas is a significant fact that both consumers and farmers have not fully realized before. Canned peas are as much a product of mines and forests as they are of farms. if consumers through out the United States are to enjoy Wisconsin peas during every season of the year they must pay for cans and boxes as well as for the green peas. All other necessary costs must also be met by consumers if factories are to continue packing peas. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
