Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from A Series of Charts: With Sailing Directions, Embracing Surveys of the Farallones, Entrance to the Bay of San Francisco In making the surveys, I had the valuable aid of competent assistants, and the results of our arduous labors may be relied on as strictly correct. The charts based on these results have been carefully prepared by skillful hydrographers, under my immediate supervision. I humbly hope and believe, they will prove of great benefit to all navigators of these waters, and that they will be found in other respects of general utility. And I rejoice, sincerely, it is in my power, by the publication of the series of charts, to contribute something to the stock of useful information, in relation to this important and interesting portion of our country. I have decided to inscribe the charts to you. Your intimate connection with the Pacific steam mail line, the acknowledged commercial and general advantages which have resulted from its early and successful establishment, and the large and beneficial agency of that line, in the development of the vast resources of California, would, of themselves, have strongly disposed me to Offer you this testimony of my sincere respect. Another consideration. Personal in its character, combines with the one just stated, in controlling my decision. You did me the honor, some few years since, to invite me to take charge of the steamer California, the pioneer of your line, and to conduct her in safety to her destination; and although I was prevented, by official duty, from compliance with your request, I have not forgotten the kind terms in which the invitation was communicated. I make the inscription,...
