As a famous garden artist has so aptly expressed: The lawn is the heart of the true British garden. In no other country is this delightful feature of the garden seen in such perfection in normal times as in this sea-girt isle. Every owner of a garden prides himself upon the possession of a good lawn, and well he may do so, for there is nothing forms so exquisite a setting to a floral picture as an expanse of emerald-green grass, and no costly carpet can ever vie with the springiness or elasticity of well-kept turf. Granted that the lawn forms so essential a feature of the flower garden, it naturally follows that every owner of a garden wants to know the correct methods of forming a lawn, and also of its subsequent management. To meet these requirements the present...
