FBC LTD, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Agricultural Trade Highlights: February 1992 While all participants will apparently engage in the country schedule exercise, a number of countries, including those of the EC and Japan, are still seeking fundamental revisions to the draft text. The u.s. Position is that the draft text on agriculture could be improved in a number of important areas, but is an acceptable basis for concluding the negotiations. The first meeting of the reconvened gatt Panel on oilseeds concluded February 4 in Geneva. The United States emphasized that the new EC oilseeds regime would continue to nullify and impair benefits under the zero-duty binding. The u.s. Team argued the general level of EC support remains unchanged and that the EC had not restored the competitive price relationship between domestic and imported oilseeds, as required by the Panel in its original 1989 report. The EC maintained that the new regime addressed the original Panel's concerns that EC producers were completely insulated from world prices. The Community's view of the terms of reference for the reconvened Panel allowed only for a ruling on this issue. According to the ec, action beyond a ruling of this nature would require another panel. The Panel is to submit its final report, including findings and conclusion, on March 3. U.s., Canadian, and Mexican negotiators met during the week of February 17 in Dallas, Texas for the purpose of discussing outstanding issues and putting together a bracketed draft text on agriculture. Details of the discussions were not available at the time of this writing. Prices in Moldova have increased sharply again, this time due to an influx of rubles from Ukraine. With the introduction of a...
