Excerpt from Waikare-Moana, the Sea of the Rippling Waters; The Lake, the Land, the Legends: With a Tramp Through Tuhoe Land Lake Waikare-moana is situated not far from the east coast of the North Island of New Zealand, to the north-west of that great indentation named by Captain Cook Hawke Bay. The completion of the main road - in the near future - that leads from Rotorua to Gisborne will allow of a visit to this beautiful lake with something like ease. At the present time it must be approached from Napier as a starting-point. Small steamers cross Hawke Bay from Napier with tolerable regularity to the Wairoa River - a short trip of four hours - near the mouth of which is situated the pretty Town of Clyde. From Clyde a ride or drive of thirty-one miles along the road leading up the Wairoa and Waikare-taheke Rivers will bring the traveller to the outlet of the lake at Onepoto. From this point a road is in process of construction northward along the shores of the lake, to Aniwa niwa,...
