The methods given for the detection of benzoic acid can not be employed in the presence of saccharin. flask and subjected to distillation. The first portions of the distillate are used in the detection of sulphurous acid as directed hereafter. The last portion is employed in the detection of benzoic acid according to one of the following methods: MOHLER S METHOD.b The filtrate described above is neutralized with sodium hydroxid, evaporated to dryness, treated with 2 or 3 cc of strong sulphuric acid, and heated until white fumes appear. By this means benzoic acid is converted into sulphobenzoic acid. A few crystals of potassium nitrate are added and the heating continued until the solution is almost or quite colorless. This causes the formation of meta-dinitro-benzoic acid. When cool the acid is diluted with water, ammonia added in excess, and the mixture transferred to a test tube.
