Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Christian Examiner, Vol. 24: And Religious Miscellany The success or failure of foreign missions thus far will be judged and decided by different minds according to their antecedent views and points of observation. In the judgment of some persons nothing ever has succeeded. A distinguished Orthodox divine, the President of one of our Neongland colleges, has pronounced Christianity itself a failure, and not a few declare our American republicanism a humbug, though they confess that the wild beast of human nature has shown his teeth rather earlier than they expected. But if there is any success anywhere, if there is any good thing in the world, anything to love or to live for, it surely is just here, in doing good, in imitating at a humble and infinite distance the good God, in giving light for darkness, and blessing men by turning them from their iniquities. And in this light, where is there more success than in missions to the heathen? Judson might be hard at work for seven years before he could make a single...
