Reviews

The book is great and fantastic. It is written in straightforward words and phrases rather than difficult to understand. You won't really feel monotony at any time of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for regarding should you question me).

Probably that is correct, only we haven t the heart to let them starve as long as that. At any rate the crop should be entirely empty when killed, and twelve hours will accomplish this. The chicks that are to be killed in the morning should be placed handy to the killer. The small blade of a pocket knife (if sharp) answers well for Killing . sticking. The doomed chick is bound up by the feet in the slip noose, and the killer should run the backs of the first and second fingers of the left hand between one wing and the backs of the third and fourth fingers between the other wing. Shut down on the wings and with the right hand raise the head and place it between the thumb and third finger of the left hand; open the beak and prop it open with the first finger of the left hand. The head should be in such a position so that the beak will point out from the hand and so the roof of the mouth (when opened) will be presented full to the killer. Thus we hold the chick securely, and by holding tightly and pulling down on the string the bird can not move, no matter how hard he may try. The right hand is left free to stick and pull the feathers. The killer now places the knife in the bird s mouth and shoves the point into...
