The frigate had heedlessly past her by: Her arrowy masts in the evening sky, Where the light of the day was well-nigh gone, Were no marks for the eye to rest upon. A night and a day Have glided away; Helmless and motionless there she lay, Tossed by the surges and dash'd by the spray, A shapeless speck amidst the foam - But that shapeless speck is the Rover's home. III. It is evening and the sun is set, But the track of his glory is beaming yet. Spreading along the horizon's line With a mellow'd radiance of light divine, As the echo of song at the music's close, Or the lingering scent of the wither'd rose. IV. There came a moaning on the water, But it was not a woman's cry. As of a mother or a daughter In the first wild agony Of death's bereavement; nor the broken tone Of childhood...
