THE PSYCHOLOGICAL BULLETIN, VOL. 8: 1911, CONTAINING THE LITERATURE SECTION OF THE PSYCHOLOGICAL REVIEW (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Psychological Bulletin, Vol. 8: 1911, Containing the Literature Section of the Psychological Review One may continue to turn to the Psychological Index (29) in the confident hope of finding an appreciably definite estimate of the tendencies which are operative in the literary output. By reference to the table below which presents a general comparison of the two preceding years one's attention is struck by two facts. In 1909 there is a decrease of over fifteen per cent. In the total number of references listed in the previous year. There is no possibility of determining whether this is an absolute decrease or whether this falling-off is entirely attributable to the package of slips containing some of the titles collected by our German collaborators which was lost in the mail (compiler's Note). This loss does not, however, effect the relative ranking of the chief topics in the science employed by the Index for the purpose of classifying this rich and varied bibliographical material. The ranking order of these ten rubrics remains identical with the order that obtained in 1908. Inasmuch as a decrease occurs in each topic, one cannot refrain from asking: Do we here have an indication of the attainment of a temporary working balance among the dominant interests of psychology? There are considerations relative to the probable rates of scientific advancement which would lead one to regret such an attainment in any science.
