Createspace, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 203 x 127 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Another collection of six short speculative fictions by William Mangieri, in which we learn some life lessons: It s hard to be left behind. You can t be brain-washed if you have no memory. One being s possession is another s salvation. Little things can make all the difference. It s amazing what you can find at a flee market. Be careful what you smoke. Includes the short stories: Bugging Out Change is hard to deal with under the best of circumstances, but what do you do when everything you know seems to be disappearing around you? A lonely, cantankerous shopkeeper struggles to keep what s left of his world. The Unreliability of the Mature Mind It s frustrating to deal with the inconsistencies of dimentia and it s effects on maturing minds, but what if our defense against a future invader depended on that unreliability? Can mind control work on someone who can t control their own mind? My Brother s Keeper A space traveler lands on a primitive planet, and contends with the backwards philosophy of some brown-robed brethren as he tries to rescue his own brother s spirit. What would you be willing to do to save a soul from oblivion? The Black Spot On a routine shift, one of the miners is exposed to something.different. The company doctor says it s just in his head, and he s right, but that doesn t mean it s a good thing. There may be a Workman s Comp claim here. Flee Markets Small town summer doldrums can leave your imagination wanting to flee away with you, taking you to far-away places - or maybe even bringing...
