

Studies in the Early History of Institutions, Vol. 3: The Theory of Village Communities (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Denman W Ross

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Studies in the Early History of Institutions, Vol. 3: The Theory of Village Communities I shall undertake, in the following essay, a critical examination of the Theory of Village Communities, as presented and recommended by its most eminent advocates, G. L. Von Maurer, Friedrich Thudichum, Prof. Nasse, M. De Laveleye, and Sir Henry Maine. The works of Von Maurer and Thudichum are now antiquated, superseded in a great measure, and little read, even by students but. In view of the fact that these writers have contributed fundamental premises for the arguments of their successors in the field of Economic History I shall have to bring them into notice once more; and I think I cannot urge a plea for independent study and independent writing more effectively than by showing how the researches of Prof. Nasse, M. De Laveleye, and Sir Henry Maine have been affected by the unscientific arguments and the erroneous conclusions of their predecessors.
