STATISTICS IN LANGUAGE STUDIES.

Condition: New. Cambridge University Press, 1986. 336p. Paperback. Series: Cambridge Textbooks in Linguistics. This book demonstrates the contribution that statistics can and should make to linguistic studies. The range of work to which statistical analysis is applicable is vast: including, for example, language acquisition, language variation and many aspects of applied linguistics. The authors give a wide variety of linguistic examples to demonstrate the use of statistics in summarising data in the most appropriate way, and then making helpful inferences...
