Exits R. and L.; a window at the back; a divan near the window; a dining table in centre of room; small table with telephone at L. A stairway should lead from room but this is not necessary, as all entrances and exits by stairs can be made at the right. (When the curtain rises on the first act the room is in extreme disorder. The table is piled high with books and papers. Coats, caps, sweaters, books, papers and so forth strewn about in every direction. Myles Standish Winslow is discovered writing at table, C.) Myles (starting to look at watch; discovering that he hasn t it on; looking about; calling). Web, what time is it? Horace Webber (outside). Why - er - about - quarter past six. Myles. It is? The bunch must be lost. Say, what in blazes were the Chiltern Hundreds, do you know? Web....

Reviews

This book is definitely not simple to begin on studying but quite fun to see. I actually have read and that i am sure that i will gonna read through yet again once again in the foreseeable future. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

-- Brennan Koelpin

Comprehensive guide! Its this type of very good read through. It is actually writter in simple words and phrases rather than difficult to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
