Excerpt: .of the threads, a special draw knot should be used to avoid leaving slack ends in the warp. Also, where the threads are thus concentrated, instead of being spread out as during their passage from the bobbins, a great many imperfections are liable to be buried in the warp and not seen, turning up later to make trouble for the weaver and to cut down the production of the loom. Another method in picking, and one which has much to commend it, is to do no picking at all in the warping process, it being therefore, practicable to run the warping and beaming at a higher rate of speed. After the warp has been beamed, it is then put onto a carriage, or frame, and is then rebeamed onto another beam mounted on another frame, or carriage, the two being a short distance apart, say, 8 to 10 feet. One of these beams driven by power, winds up slowly, the other one giving off the warp, and the operative who does the picking, or cleaning, stands beside it and carefully removes the imperfections from the warp as they come into view. The speed will be as slow or as fast as is warranted by circumstances, and, as there is no compulsion as to the tune to be taken, the warp can in this way be cleaned in a most thorough manner. In cleaning during the warping, if too much time is taken, the warping...
