What would YOU do if you learned just how much power hangs over you? Minus Orth is caught between his own power of art and a woman s power of being. Think of how the Olympian Gods would change in our minds when we are allowed to use our imaginations to see their true ages. Time changes all people - even gods - and when their day-to-day mischievous lives no longer play a role in human affairs, what then do they become? The image of shriveled skin is too apt to ignore. And, above all, what do we associate with the aging of these gods within the condition of our modern times? Minus Orth has an idea which can explain this, and give our imaginations the figures to uphold. He is sculpting the mighty figures of myth - and the not-so-mighty - in an art cycle he has titled Mythical Gods in Their Twilight without the least irony. And his creations have not come without a price. Author Mark Beyer, along with Siren Muse Publishing, bring you a story of obsession, identity, and art. Power lurks on every page. Synopsis: Minus Orth walks dogs for a living and sculpts for his life. He has a girlfriend, Belinda, who s itching to get married. He plays poker with a quartet of exiled aristocrats. His friend, Peter N, has reaped artistic success that s both inspirational and a thorn. And at Minus s art co-op, the residents live on the fringe of society. This is the power of New York City, the power of an Arts lifestyle, and the power of passion for fame. One day Minus crosses paths with...
