

Howl, 2016: Poems, Rants, and Essays about the Election

By Trish Macenulty

Prism Light Press. Paperback. Condition: New. 190 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.4in. The poems, essays, rants, and stories in this anthology were written in the immediate aftermath of the most contentious election that any of us can remember. They represent a visceral and often raw reaction to the dismantling of the world as we have known it. In assembling this collection, we took a democratic approach. If you were willing to share it and it fit within our parameters, we were happy to include it. We have contributions from established (and even iconic) writers, and we have contributions from young people just discovering their voice. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You wont feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).
