In Alabama and Georgia the legislature was still in session at the time the reports were made to the Chairman of your committee, and it was impossible to say just what laws the legislature would enact tending towards uniformity. Commissioner Edward Kent, of Arizona, stated its legislature passed the Sales Act without alteration, but no other uniform legislation had been enacted since 1906. Commissioner Henry Gonsmeirs, of Alabama, stated that the Negotiable Instruments Act had been adopted. That two sessions of the legislature had been held this year, and at the second session several things were undone which were done at the first session. He hoped the Sales Act would be made a part of the statutory law by this legislature....
