Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Training in Psychiatric Social Work at the Institute for Child Guidance, 1927-1933 General plans varied for each of the three groups according to the qualifications required for admission to training. Thus all psychiatrists were already trained by postgraduate work in the fundamentals of psychiatry. The chief points to be met in their year of training experience were to provide: supervised work with children, a new field for practically all of them; additions to their technical armamentarium for examination and treatment; and opportunity to develop ability for team work, capacity to assume leadership, and comprehension of the contributions to be made by other members of the group.
