Thomas Earl Nunnally, raised on the south side of Chicago along with his six brothers and two sisters by a very strict and God fearing mother. He was taught early on to respect his fellow man and the value of the golden rule (which at times he tried to forget). At the age of eighteen after graduating high school, Thomas enlisted into the military (U.S. Navy). While in the military Thomas young world was thrust suddenly from that of a teen-ager to an adult serving in Viet-Nam. To cope, whenever he could he enjoyed his alone time writing home, painting a written picture for family...
