2012. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. 282 Education is the means for an all-round development of man. It is needless to mention about its role and importance in life. Mahatma Gandhi has rightly noted, "Education is an unending exercise till death. Only it can act as a means to the end of a successful life. It can help mould and shape human body, mind and character in such a manner that they may act as means to achieve joy and efficiency." , "Peace and development are subjects of human life, which are, apart from connecting to one-another, necessary elements that make life purposeful. Both are dynamic in their nature and complementary to one-another. To create an atmosphere of peace, to guide people on the true pathway to development, the role of education is vital. Thus, we can see education, peace and development as inter connected aspects of human life; they cannot be separated from one-another and their role cannot be minimized. The significance of all these three aspects in human life is brought together in this volume entitled, Education, Peace and Development." , "In this edited volume, by Dr. Ravindra Kumar-an eminent scholar, the contributors, from India and abroad, have, by accepting the importance of the subject, attempted to present their respective viewpoints on the topics of education, peace and development. Divided into five parts-General Observation, Gandhian Perspectives, Conflicts Resolution, Overview and Case Studies-this volume is an attempt to draw the attention of those interested in the subject, besides the general reader. About The Author:- Dr. Ravindra Kumar, a renowned Indologist, educationist and Gandhian scholar, is a writer of repute with more than one hundred books and four hundred articles/lectures on great personalities of the Indian sub-continent, especially Gautama Buddha and Mahatma Gandhi, and on various socio-political, educational, cultural and academic...
