Excerpt from Mason s Monthly Coin and Stamp Collector s Magazine, Vol. 4: December, 1870 Under the triangle, buried in the lower part of the arch, is a steel cup, or, technically, a die stake. Into this is fastened the reverse die, or according to boys dialect, the tail die. The die stake is arranged to rise about the eighth of an inch, but when down it rests firmly on the solid foundation of the arch. Over the die stake is a steel collar or plate, in which is a hole just large enough to allow a blank to drop upon the die. In the triangle above the obverse die is fastened, which moves with the triangle; and, when the knee is straightened, the die fits into the collar and presses down upon the reverse die.
