Isroel B Babayev. Paperback. Condition: New. 70 pages. Dimensions: 11.0in. x 8.5in. x 0.2in. The OUR PERCEPTION OF REALITY is an eye opening educational aid, reference guide and visual assistant to demonstrate in simple, non-technical, terms the creation of our universe, processes and forces we experience and observe in our daily lives. It shows how slight, philosophical change in perception as well as interpretation of physical laws would have a profound and everlasting effect in understanding and accepting our reality. Throughout the book I'm using examples and illustrations from our everyday life, as well as thought experiments that are easy to follow and duplicate for practically anyone, with or without scientific training. While this book explains most physical processes, it is, in fact, all about the psyche and falsified perceptions, where often human conscious mind driven by subconscious phobias is refusing to accept the obvious, only because from the early age it was conditioned to expect something different. Therefore, I'm urging you to find a lot of patience and conduct your own research before giving up even if what you are reading seems to you like a complete gibberish. In the course of my life I studied a great deal of different subjects such as electronics, physics, chemistry, biology, programming, music, dance, cooking, psychology, philosophy in general as well as of martial arts and more, and my greatest strength has always been to find commonalities in fields that are, at first glance, distinct and unrelated. It is my most cherished hope to help people to achieve the level...
