Excerpt from Gardenside Nurseries, Inc., Shelburne, Vermont: September 4, 1934 The following varieties of Crocus may be planted now, and they will begin to produce flowers in a very short time, continuing for several weeks. The foliage will not appear until spring. They are splendid to use in the rockery for fall color, and they are also nicely planted in shrub and perennial borders. They are just as inexpensive as the spring flowering sorts, which they closely resemble. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
