Excerpt from British East Africa and Uganda: A Historical Record; Compiled From Captain Lugard s and Other Reports Imperial British East Africa Company, who was in charge of an exploring expedition near the Victoria Nyanza, was invited by the King to enter Uganda, he found Mwanga so entirely a puppet of the French priests that it was impossible to treat with him as a free agent. When Mr. Jackson appeared before the King (whose acceptance of the Company s ?ag had induced him to enter the country), he expressly declared to King, chiefs, and priests that the policy of the Company, as regarded religious sects, would be a policy of strict impartiality. I explained to them again and again, he repeated, that the Company would treat all parties alike, and make no distinction between Roman Catholics, Protestants, heathens, or Moham medans. This assurance of the Company s intentions was soon afterwards strikingly confirmed from another quarter, which ought to have carried great weight. The Sultan of Zanzibar, and the leading Arabs of the coast, who had personal experience of the Company s dealing in such matters, wrote to the chiefs of their Mohammedan co religionists in Uganda, counselling them to place the fullest confidence in the Company. The Mohammedans did so, the Roman Catholic party, under the guidance of the French priests, alone refused to follow the general example, and preferred eventually to precipitate a civil war for the attainment of that political and religious supremacy which it had been the constant ambition of Bishop Hirth and his colleagues to obtain. The result of that supremacy would have been fatal to British influence at the sources of the Nile. In order...
