Border Crossings: Tales of Transit and Transgression Within the Global Village

By Bill Stamos

Dog Ear Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 240 pages. Dimensions: 8.8in. x 5.9in. x 0.7in. These 17 raucous, edgy tales reflect much of the apprehension any sojourner has felt while stuck on the bridge between two cultures, countries, or transits of any kind. At machine gun point in Argentina, offending violent Islamic sensibilities, mutinying while sailing through hurricanes, touched by magic shamans on volcano tops, or surviving Turkish earthquakes, the power of place and a geography of survival permeates these vibrant coming of age tales. When the power to proceed in both time and space is held back and controlled completely by another, . . . . border crossings might bring out the caged animal at any instant. . . . . Nickolas Dimetreou stumbles, fumbles, falls face down, and soars through political, spiritual, and absurd adventures of all kinds, knocking against boundaries, trying to discover a place within his own society that better reflects a coherent position among all others. All but the first of these stories finds a different international border as a challenging backdrop. Each of the 17 narratives is a cultural exchange wrapped in an adventure story. Voyages of vulnerability, these mini traumadies are all...
