Not illustrated. 1919 Excerpt: .by state rather than by local officials apply with equal force to a business tax levied upon net income; while there is the further fact that, if the state administers the personal income tax, it can administer the business income tax more conveniently, economically and efficiently than any county or municipal authorities. The same is true of any tax that may be levied in exceptional cases upon gross receipts in lieu of net income. Upon the other hand, taxes levied in exceptional cases upon the basis of rental values, or levied in fixed amount upon particular occupations requiring special police regulation, may be left to local administration. Section 28. The proceeds of the proposed business tax may well be divided between the state and local authorities in due proportions. Our recommendation is that the states retain a proportion corresponding to that which state revenues or expenditures bear to the total state and local expenditures or revenues, and that the remainder should be turned over to the taxing district in which business is carried on. The details of the plan of distribution may well vary from state to state, but this general rule seems to us a satisfactory general guide.<sup>10</sup> Section 29. It goes without saying that the business tax we recommend is proposed as a substitute for all existing business taxes. The diversity, multiplicity, and inequality of the existing taxes levied upon business by both state and local authorities in many commonwealths have long constituted serious...
