[.]against the unbridled licence of Gnostic theosophy, applying to this purpose his doctrine of the Incarnate Logos. His basis is psychology as well as history. It is the Life which is the light of men, that life whose source is God, and which permeates and redeems His creation; even the eternal Life which was with the Father and was manifested to us. In the critical grouping of our New Testament writings the Gospel and Epistles of John can occupy, then, no lesser place than that of the keystone of the arch. To sum up: the Literature of the Apostle owed its early development and long continuance among the Pauline churches of Asia Minor and Greece, to the impetus and example of Paul s apostolic authority. The Literature of the Teacher and Prophet, growing up around Jerusalem and its daughter churches at Antioch and Rome, came slowly to surpass in influence the commandment of the apostles, as the church became more and more exclusively dependent upon it for the teaching of the Lord. It was the function of the great theologian of Ephesus (as he came early to be called), linking the authority of both, to furnish the fundamental basis for the catholic faith.[.].
