Excerpt from The Forest Worker: January, 1926 The.association of West Virginia Foresters, organized in Elkins about a year ago, met in Charleston on December 3 and voted to form a permanent association admitting professional foresters and other persons Who are especially interested in forestry or have been active in the forestry movement. B. L. Roberts, forester of the Cherry River Boom and Lumber Company, was elected president for the coming year, and recommendations were prepared for the State forest parks, and conservation commission. These call for the employment of a State forester to head a coordinate division under the game and fish commission and the renaming of that commission the forest, game, and fish commission; the amendment of the tax laws of the State as applying to forest lands, along the lines recommended by the Senate Committee on reforestation; continued trial of the new west Virginia State wide fire control law without amendment until it becomes more firmly established and the need for its amendment is more clearly demonstrated; and the steady expansion of the State s fire - control organization to cover the entire forested area of the State, approximately 10 million acres, instead of 4 million acres as at present.
