Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal, Vol. 19: September, 1922 According to recognized authorities, it is true that the nations of the earth are of one blood. It is remarkable and very significant that Paul of Tarsus recognized this fact and made it known to the citizens. Of Athens nineteen centuries ago. This biological fact is the basis of brotherly love. Human society has apparently found it necessary to rely on social devices that do not express this spirit. Tariff walls, armies, and navies will not finally secure these adjustments, though they may seem temporarily necessary. We may question the group or personal interests of those who seek to prolong our dependence on these crude, primitive devices for adjustment. If modern social science teaches anything it teaches that there are other devices of a higher rational order and of greater survival value. It seems not improbable that the socialized Orient will lead in the introduction of some of these devices. The college fraternity is the laboratory which is committed, primarily, to the practical application of the law of brotherly love. This is the vital principle of Christianity and the solution of the international crisis. In the experiences of college fraternity and sorority life our young men and young women may get the social training that will fit them for the new era of international relations upon which the world is entering with wonderful rapidity. She gave up mutton, pork and beef, She gave up aids and teas, She gave up milk, without relief, She gave up beans and peas. She gave up fruit, and spuds and jams, She gave up bread and toast.
