

South Pacific at Seventeen: USS Cofer (Apd-62) World War II

By James Richard Snellen

Trafford Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 150 pages. Dimensions: 9.8in. x 7.0in. x 0.2in. Finally convincing his parents to sign his papers at the age of seventeen, James Snellen enlisted in the Navy in 1944-the middle of World War II. A young farm boy from rural Kentucky, James was anxious to see some action! His boat crew was assigned to an Armed Personnel Destroyer, USS Cofer (APD-62). Being assigned the position of gunner, signalman, and radioman aboard a LCV landing craft that would put assault troops ashore onto the enemy beaches in the South Pacific, he certainly saw more action than he had bargained for. His role later included sweeping for mines in between the Japanese boat docks before any other Navy ship could enter the enemy harbors. James Snellen successfully landed troops in all eight of the United States invasions in the South Pacific that led up to the surrender of the Japanese. From Balikpapan to Bora Bora, Okinawa, Japan to Fusan, Korea, he received two bronze stars and many other medals for his bravery and for doing his part. Even though I was awarded two bronze stars, the things that I did were the same things being done...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

This publication is great. It is full of wisdom and knowledge. You will not really feel monotony at any time of the time (that's what catalogs are for relating to when you ask me).
