I played with it all yesterday afternoon when it rained. I tried on Jessie-dear s bracelets and the muff made out of feathers that Rudolf gave that Eunice who went to live in Russia. I wonder why she didn t take it with her, for it must be very cold there. Here we are. We passed through the honeysuckle-wreathed gate into the old garden. I have a wonderful lovely new game, said Philip. Will you play it with me? If I can play it sitting still. Do I ever ask you to play the other kind? Lie here in the grass under the thorn-apple tree and close your eyes. I am going to touch your cheek with flowers and you must guess what they are. He flitted off, while I lay with closed eyes. In a moment he was back. Now, he said, and a feathery mass of something touched my face. I felt a hundred slender tendrils brush my cheek, and here and there among them...
