Bibliogov, 2013. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Pursuant to a congressional request, GAO reviewed: (1) the Federal Highway Administration s (FHWA) efforts to establish minimum federal standards for training tractor-trailer drivers; (2) driver training curricula offered by various public and private schools; and (3) trucking industry efforts to improve the quality of driver training. GAO found that: (1) FHWA published rules establishing a 1992 deadline for all truck drivers to pass tests meeting federal standards; (2) FHWA has recommended a minimum 320 hours of training for new drivers; (3) while many schools had adopted the FHWA model curriculum, the hours of instruction and distribution of those hours varied widely among schools; (4) student-to-teacher ratios varied widely among schools and types of instruction; (5) various trucking industry associations were working to develop certification standards; and (6) the majority of private truck driving schools were unaccredited.
