

The REV. J. W. Loguen as a Slave and as a Freeman: A Narrative of Real Life (Dodo Press)

By J. W. Loguen

Dodo Press. Paperback. Condition: New. 366 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.8in. Rev. Jermain Wesley Loguen (1813-1872) was an African American abolitionist and bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church. Loguen was born into slavery in Davidson County, Tennessee, the son of a white man, David Logue, and a slave named Cherry. At age 21, he successfully escaped bondage on his second attempt, stealing his masters horse and following the Underground Railroad north, finally crossing into Canada. He studied at the Oneida Institute in Whitesboro, New York, opened schools for black children in Utica, New York and Syracuse, New York, and married. Loguen became an elder in the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church and took the middle name Wesley after John Wesley, founder of the Methodist movement. He held various church posts and was appointed bishop in 1868. Loguen became a popular abolitionist speaker and authored an autobiography, The Rev. J. W. Loguen as a Slave and as a Freeman: A Narrative of Real Life (1859). This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg, OR, La Vergne, TN. Paperback.

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE
[8.86 MB]

Reviews

This created pdf is fantastic. Indeed, it can be perform, nonetheless an interesting and amazing literature. Its been developed in an remarkably straightforward way and is particularly simply following i finished reading this publication by which in fact altered me, alter the way i really believe.

-- Amanda Hand Jr.

A must buy book if you need to adding benefit. Of course, it is actually perform, still an interesting and amazing literature. I am delighted to explain how this is basically the best book i actually have read through during my individual life and may be he best book for at any time.

-- Jarod Bartoletti