Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Housing for the United States After the War In 1934 the National Association of Housing Officials issued a report entitled A Housing Program for the United States. That report exerted an influence of far-reaching importance. The record of the ten years since then is the story of a new day in housing, marked by extensive governmental assistance to private enterprise, and by the beginning of a nation-wide attack on slums and a nation-wide program for the provision of decent housing for low-income families. The record also spans a range from near the bottom of the worst depression in the nation s history to a time when the nation s economy and its manpower are dominantly devoted to winning the most crucial war in the nation s history. With the end of the war will come reconversion to serve the needs of the people at peace. The difficult and challenging problems that will have to be faced, no less in housing than in other activities, have made it seem imperative that the Association outline the major elements which it believes should be considered in postwar housing for the nation. This report, prepared by the Association s Committee on Postwar Housing, and approved in principle and issued by the Board of Governors of the Association, represents the best judgment of the Association on the basis of the facts as they now appear.
