O. , 2004. OCLC Number: (OCoLC)54494427 Subject: United States -- Foreign economic relations -- China. Excerpt: . . . 11 The other thing I want to underscore is that we are in the midst of what I would describe as a 3-month dialogue with our Chinese counterparts about precisely these issues. And there is no doubt that the level of interest expressed by the Committee, this Committee in particular, in our relationship with China and our economic relations is incredibly important at this time. And I know when I will be traveling to Beijing this coming week I will make use of the vigor of the Committees statements in terms of our discussions with the Chinese. That dialogue that has been going on has been taking place at the highest levels. President Bush will meet with President Hu this week in Thailand on the margins of the APEC summit. Treasury Secretary Snow laid the groundwork for that visit with his visit to Beijing in late August. Ambassador Zelikson will follow the Presidents meeting with a session to Beijing on our trading relationships. Secretary Evans and I will be in Beijing next week to discuss the same set of issues. And this will wrap up with Premier Wens visit to the United States in late November, early December, as well as an annual meeting, the meeting of the Joint Commission on Commerce and Trade in December. We expect that - from the Chinese, frankly, we have for a very long time, I think, both Congress and the Administration in the first year of Chinas implementation...
