When half the citizens of the most advanced nation in the world are overwhelmed by incurable disease, with the rest of the world catching up fast, you know you are looking at a planetary emergency. A 2. 6 TRILLION Sickness Industry shows the only people seeking cures are patients. Paul dedicated his life to helping others. Finding time between online health coaching and running retreats, Paul wrote Fire Your Doctor to add his voice to the many inspirational and courageous natural healing advocates who have gone before....
