The Gospel: Fishing for Ephraim Is a journey back through time in search of the message of the gospel proclaimed by the apostles. It is through this journey that the reader will discover a whole new paradigm that affects each and every one of us who believe in Messiah. Throughout the history of the Church, the Gospel has been seen as a message that Israel rejected and the Gentiles received; but who are these Gentiles that the apostles were sent to? Did Israel really reject the gospel, or are they the very Gentiles it was intended for in the first place. Crawford Sr., the reader will discover a detailed explanation of the prophetic utterances regarding the house of Judah (the Jews) and the house of Ephraim (the Gentiles). Drawing on over 15 years of study, the author rebukes 1,700 years of Church error, while edifying the reader with an abundance of scriptural references. Learning about our true identity in Messiah will open the reader s heart and eyes to truths long hidden by religious dogma and out right error. The author seeks to awaken the Hebrew soul that lies dormant within the body of Messiah. Emphasizing justification over sanctification, the author points the reader to the old paths spoken of by the Prophets Isa 58:12 And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths...
