

Education Groups for Men Who Batter: The Duluth Model

By Michael Paymar, Ellen Pence

Springer Publishing Co Inc, United States, 1993. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 251 x 178 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Pence and Paymar are right on target again. Their analysis of battering is excellent and their approach is straightforward, useful and clear. [The book] tells you what to do with abusive men and how to do it well. [The authors] challenge practitioners to do their work in a manner that is compassionate yet never colluding. Accountability and safety to battered women and creating a process of change for abusive men are central to its success.--Susan Schechter, author of Women and Male Violence Drawing upon years of experience.Pence and Paymar have written a practical and conceptually sound curriculum for batterers groups. This book offers an effective guide to both the beginning facilitator and the experienced clinician for engaging batterers in the lifelong process of changing their intimate relationships, from those based on coercive control to those based on equality. [They] accomplish this task without compromising their commitment to advocacy with battered women. --Anne L. Ganley, PhD, Domestic Violence Program Seattle Veterans Administration Medical Center Presents the most comprehensive and successful methods for working with men who batter....
