CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Condition: New. Amanda J Clark (illustrator). This item is printed on demand. 134 pages. Dimensions: 8.4in. x 5.4in. x 0.5in. A Guide for the Seeker on a Quest for True Self. Kahlil Gibran's The Prophet meets Hermann Hesse's Siddhartha. The great path has no gates, Thousands of roads enter it. When one passes through this gateless gate He walks freely between heaven and earth. --Wumen Huikai (1183-1260) From the Upanishads sacred writings, Hinduism philosophy and spirituality, the poetry of Zen and Taoism to ancient Celtic Mysticism, The Garden portrays a universal and timeless spiritual message, I Am That I Am. There is no book in this world which is as thrilling and illuminating as the Upanishads. They contain the direct spiritual experiences or revelations of seers, or sages. They are the products of the highest wisdom, supreme divine knowledge. Hence they stir the hearts of people and inspire them. --Swami Sivananda The Garden is a sacred book on enlightenment, a metaphysical guide for the seeker, the one who is ready to discover the deepest secret of life. The wisdom it contains points to the greatest mystery that has always surrounded us yet always alluded us. This secret lies nearer to us than does anything else. A journey of self discovery and initiation, the story contains deep insights that point toward the one true realisation, that the power of life is us. By becoming more alert, more aware, more awake, the reader may discover the answer to the mystery of all mysteries: Who am I This profound and illuminating book is based upon certain deep truths of human experience. One may be ready to see the Truth this book contains, while another may only see a dreamland of fantasy. Fools will laugh but the wise shall understand. --Rinzai Zen The Garden gently...
