Excerpt: .that in the coming years its interests will always find as intelligent and faithful guardians as those who are to-day represented by their president, whom I now have the pleasure of introducing to you, --Mr. Gilmore of Manchester. REMARKS BY HON. GEORGE C. GILMORE IN BEHALF OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE STATE LIBRARY. Little, I apprehend, is expected of the local management in the exercises of to-day, our duties being all of the future, and it would certainly be presumption on my part to attempt to interest this large audience by anything I might say, especially so when our distinguished guests are waiting on the platform to be heard, ---men who have given a life time to library management. But I cannot forbear saying a few words to place on record the early efforts of the inhabitants of the towns in this state to...
