Excerpt from The Bi-Centennial Celebration of the Settlement of Litchfield, Connecticut, August 1-4, 1920: Compiled for the Litchfield Historical Society As authorized by Special Act of the Connecticut Legislature an appropriation of Five Thousand Dollars was made from the town treasury to defray the general expenses of the celebration and every permanent and Summer resident entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion. The public and mercantile buildings, and with scarcely an exception, the houses in the Borough were profusely decorated. The display of flags was remarkable, many rare banners and emblems of national and political character being shown. The facade of the Beckwith house on South Street was nearly covered with thirteen different flags, each one connected with some phase of American history, including several of the original colonies, the famous Rattlesnake emblem, early Revolutionary banners and a Civil War flag that was under fire at Fort Sumter, while on the Seymour homestead next door was a large and beautiful flag of the Order of the Cincinnati.
